2 Youths Drown in Separate Area Mishaps Sunday

GC Youth Loses Life In Chouteau Is. Pond, St. Louis in River

Two youths, including one from Granite City, drowned Sunday afternoon within a half-hour of each other in a highway "borrow" pit west of Mitchell and in the Mississippi River.

The victims were Troy E. Tackett, 16, of 2812 National avenue, and Daniel S. Colpi, 18, of Jennings, Mo.

Tackett was swimming in a borrow pit between the old and the new Chain of Rocks canal bridges west of the canal with his brother, Wendell Tackett, 24, of 2131 Grand avenue, and three other persons at about 3 p.m.

He called for help, and his brother tried to save him but could not reach him in time. His body was found about 4:40 p.m. by the Long Lake volunteer fire department rescue squad. The Mitchell volunteer fire department rescue squad and county and state police assisted in the search.

Others in the swimming party were William Davidson, 2408 East 25th street; Robert Cope, 3708 Kirkpatrick homes; and Phillip Manning, 3708 Kirkpatrick homes. They were among over 100 swimmers at the pit. An inquest is to be conducted.

Born in Thebes, Ill., Tackett lived in Granite City for 13 years. He would have been a junior at Granite City high school in the fall.

He is survived by his parents, Mrs. Lucille Thompson of Granite City and Carmel Tackett of East St. Louis; two brothers, Wendell of Granite City and David, who is in the service at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.; and two sisters, Mrs. Ronald (Mildred) Beasley and Mrs. (Vonda) Collins, both of Granite City. An obituary notice appears elsewhere in this issue.

Colpi was swimming with a friend, Terry Forrest of St. Louis, at 2:45 p.m. a half mile south of the low water rock dam of the Mississippi river. He was wading along a submerged rock tide to a sandbar when he was caught by turbulent current and swept away.

Forrest, who was about 40 years away, swam towards him but was unable to reach him. Colpi was found by an unidentified fisherman.

Both youths knew how to swim.

GC Steel Switches To New BOF Furnaces

Billingow garage smoke from Granite City Steel's stacks was missing this morning after the company closed down its open hearth furnaces Saturday night and switched over to its new basic oxygen furnaces for all steel production.

The company's seven open-hearth furnaces were placed on standby status, and a company spokesman said it would be a "very unusual situation" that would necessitate their use. The switchover followed successful tests of the new equipment last week. Electrostatic precipitators costing $3.5 million will eliminate 99% of particulate matter air pollution from the plant.

Special Meeting Planned

Mayor Partney said this morning he plans to call a special session of the city council Wednesday evening to canvass the returns of the election and to begin preparations for issuance of the sewer bond issue for installation of sanitary sewers in North Granite and in sections of West Granite and the Nameoki area without sewers.

"I'm most pleased with the results, and I'm letting HUD know today that we plan to start Wednesday night not only to start on the issuance of revenue bonds but also to call for bids for the general obligation bonds," the mayor said.

Plans are for construction on the sanitary sewer lines in 90 days, the mayor added.

2nd Vote in 35 Days

Saturday's special vote was the second on a sewer bond issue in little over a month. On May 6, when the bond issue was $8,000,000, with only $1,900,000 to be issued immediately, 3115 voters went to the 16 polling places and defeated the proposal 1648-to-1259.

City council members took steps at the May 15 council session to call another election in a final effort to save the $1,000,000 federal grant, and lowered the amount of the total bond issue to the $1,900,000 needed for the first phase of an overall $2,000,000 sewer program. Subsequent federal grants and bond issues will be sought to complete the overall program.

In Saturday's voting, the proposal won in nine of the 16 precincts.

The turnout of 2742 voters Saturday was 373 less than at the May 6 special sewer bond vote. The sharpest drop in voting was in the Fifth Ward where on May 6, the $8,000,000 bond vote suffered its most severe defeat.

Carries in 4 Wards

With the light vote, the results were known by 7:10 p.m. Saturday, just 70 minutes after the polls closed. The "yes-no" proposal carried throughout the Second, Third, Fourth and Eighth Wards; carried in one of the three precincts of the First Ward and one of the two precincts in the Seventh Ward, and lost in Fifth and Sixth Wards.

A breakdown of the voting by precinct, with the "yes" vote listed first, followed by the "no" vote and with the May 6 "yes-no" vote in the same order in parentheses follows:

Kladar Seeks $300,000 In Union Beating Case

Peter Kladar, a 41-year-old carpenter from Wood River who was severely beaten on June 3, 1956, on a tavern parking lot in Wood River, filed suit for $300,000 Friday against four alleged assailants and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters Local 1808 in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville.

Individual defendants include Terry Thweatt and James Stanley of Granite City, William Boland of Wood River, union business agent, and Luther Harris of Bethalto.

A fifth defendant is Lee Epinger, operator of the Eastwood tavern in Wood River. The complaint alleges that the four became intoxicated in the tavern before the attack occurred. Kladar is suing him for $20,000.

Kladar was left unconscious on the parking lot. The complaint charged that the four beat him about the face and body with fists, clubs and pieces of concrete. He claims the attack was malicious and designed to inflict grave, painful and permanent injuries.

Of the total amount, he is asking $150,000 actual damages and $150,000 punitive damages. The complaint states that he suffered fractures to the face, loss of numerous teeth, impairment of sight, internal injuries and lesser injuries.

The attack came after Kladar was unsuccessful in a bid for the presidency of the union. The complaint states that he did not up his schedule of collections at various points throughout the township June 3. Chouteau residents were billed for payment of $800.164.

Lesow said he would not have a collection figure available until his books are balanced in the next week or ten days.

Rich said that the beginning of tax collections were put off a week because of the possibility of moving part of the treasurer's office into other quarters in the city hall later this week, providing more room in the treasurer's office for the collection work.

Since his office has assumed the additional work of handling sewer rental collections, the office has been handicapped by a lack of space.

The treasurer's office is to occupy the offices across the hall formerly used by the comptroller's office which is moving into remodeled quarters in the former court room on the second floor of the city hall.

ing to provoke the beating. Thweatt and Stanley were named in criminal complaints charging aggravated battery and Boland with solicitation of aggravated battery in the case and were fined on reduced charges in the Alton division of circuit court. The case later was presented to the grand jury, but no true bills were returned because of insufficient evidence.

Warfield-Murgic Wedding Saturday at Sacred Heart

Arrangements of white gladiolus and pom poms at either side of the altar and white ribbon bows on the pews provided the setting Saturday for the wedding at Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Miss Cathy Murgic, a daughter of Mrs. Mary Murgic, 244 Lincoln avenue, and the late Peter A. Murgic, and Walter Warfield, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Warfield, 2010 Lindell blvd.

The Rev. Joseph Enright officiated at the 11 o'clock Mass; and the wedding reception was held at the Long Lake Firemen's hall.

A gown of white silk organza and lace with a scoop neck and a long train was worn by the bride who was escorted by her brother, Michael. The dress was styled with a scoop neckline, long tapering sleeves and an Empire bodice. The A-line skirt and the bodice were accented with motifs of blue and white.

White daisy pom poms and lilies of the valley were combined in the bride's cascade bouquet.

The attendants were in floor-length sleeveless dresses of yellow chiffon styled with scoop necks and dirndl-style waists with flowing drapes and falling from the back in a cage effect. Headpieces matched the dresses and both carried wicker plateaus of yellow daisies, pom poms, greenery and blue cornflowers. Mrs. Marilyn Nichols, the bride's sister was matron of honor and Miss Linda Malottki, a cousin, was bridesmaid.

Tammy Palmer and David Nichols served as flower girl and ring bearer. The former, dressed like the older girls, carried a small basket of flowers.

Gary Thorsberry was best man for Mr. Warfield, and William Stanley, Kenneth Lane and James McDonnell made up the list of groomsmen and ushers.

The wedding of Miss Judith Ann Loftus, a daughter of Mrs. Norma Loftus, 3101 Ash avenue, and the late Joseph Loftus, and Fred Robert Allen, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen 3940 Myrtle avenue, took place Saturday at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, Johnson and Pontoon roads.

Rev. B. H. La Bonie from St. Augustine's Church, Ashland, Illinois, a friend of the groom officiated at the double-ring ceremony at 10 a.m., before the altar banked with white gladiolus and greenery.

Mrs. I. C. Schmidt presided at the organ, and the soloist, Raymond Hinrichs, a classmate of the groom, sang "The Lord's Prayer," preceding the ceremony and "O Lord Most Holy" and "One Hand, One Heart" during and at the close of the wedding vows.

The bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her uncle, Roland J. Kennedy. She wore a gown of pure white organza fashioned with a scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves. The neckline was enhanced with motifs of rebrothered Alencon lace etched with pearls. A wide band of lace formed a long A-lined skirt with a Watteau back panel falling from the shoulders into a full sweep.

A forward petal headpiece held her tiered veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, and daisies edged with lace.

Miss Bonnie Schmiedeke was maid of honor, and Miss Pat Ogorek of Chicago, a roommate of the bride, was bridesmaid.

They wore identical floor-length gowns of lemon yellow chiffon designed with fitted bodices and lined waistlines accented with a self-trimmed bow. A triple tier of ruffles trimmed the elbow length sleeves and the long slender skirts. Matching candlelight bows of organza and circles of veiling adorned their heads.

Hearts Split, Mercer Wins, GC Drops Two

Sacred Heart split a doubleheader with East St. Louis Polish-American, winning 10-1 and losing 7-6; Mercer Funeral Home blanked Pocahontas 2-0, and East Alton swept a doubleheader from Granite City Steel Credit Union 2-0 and 11-3 in inter-city League baseball games Sunday.

In other games, Troy edged the Collinsville Utes 5-4 and Collinsville Motor Motors beat Maryville 6-4.

East Alton is now a full game ahead of Mercer in the Blue Division. Troy increased its edge over Sacred Heart to a game and a half in the Red Division, where Mottler gained sole possession of second place.

Opening game third-inning singles by Larry Corey, Jim Rains, Steve Schardan, and Joe Thompson and an error allowed Sacred Heart to jump ahead 5-1 at Wilson Park.

The Hearts added two more runs in the fourth and three in the seventh, when there were singles by Paul Kacera, Corey, Rains and Schardan, plus a walk and an error.

Rally Falls Short
Sacred Heart could score only one run in the next game's ninth inning, when it needed two runs to tie.

An eighth-inning rally had produced three runs. Frank Hildeg, Larry Corey and Thompson had key doubles in that frame.

Schardan led team hitting in both games, totaling six singles and one double.
John Rains struck out eight, walked one and allowed four hits in the first game. Steve Lelic gave up 10 hits, fanned eight and walked two in the second game.

Taylor, Parker Star
Both of Mercer's runs at Pocahontas were scored by Arvil Taylor. In the sixth, he walked, advanced to third on an error and scored on Chuck Mizerski's single. In the eighth, Taylor singled, went to second on a sacrifice and scored on Fred Hoffmann's single.

Winning pitcher Ron Parker allowed four hits, struck out two and walked one. Relief pitcher Bruce Thompson gave up three hits, fanned three and walked none.

At East Alton, the Credit Union rallied in the fourth and sixth innings of the second game, garnering its total of three runs, but East Alton led 6-3 at that point and added two runs in the seventh and three in the ninth. The winners outlast Granite City 16-7.

In the first game, Credit Union Pitcher Pat Harts, held East Alton to only three hits, but the local team was limited to one hit and was shut out by Bob Kosten.

East Alton scored both its runs in the first inning.

Muffler Charge
James Sparks, 1511 Second street, was issued an arrest ticket early Sunday at 15th street and Madison avenue on a charge of operating a motor vehicle with an improper muffler.

Blundy Wins Again: New Half-Mile Record

Jerry Blundy of Galesburg, Ill., won his fourth consecutive feature race here in competition Friday night at the Tri-City Speedway.

Gary Byers, Logansport, Ind., set a new half-mile lap record of 24.65 seconds to win a U. S. Auto Club midjet race Sunday evening at The Speedway.

Saturday's American Motorcycle Association races were rained out.

Three Cars Overturn
Tom Corbin, Carrollton, Mo., finished behind Blundy in the feature race. The Friday night action saw three cars disabled in separate accidents.

Richard Clark of East St. Louis flipped three times while qualifying. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for contusions and abrasions of both legs, the right elbow and right shoulder, and was released.

Bill Baker, Hannibal, Mo., rolled five times in the second heat race but was not injured.

Barney Jones of Alton turned over on top of the guard rail during the feature race, but also escaped apparent injury.

Byers' new record erased a 24.75-second record, set by Bob Tattersall.

Victory by Knepper
The trophy dash was won by Arnie Knepper, Belleville, who placed 21st in the 500-mile race at Indianapolis this year. Bob Wente, St. Louis, was second in the three-lap dash. Knepper's winning time was 1:18.55.

Mel Kenyon, who placed 16th in the 500 at Indianapolis Memorial Day and May 31 won the feature distance race of 20 miles or 40 laps Friday night.

Wib Spaulding, Granite City, finished second; Gary Bettenhausen, third; Knepper, fourth; Mike McGreevy, fifth; and Lester Scott, sixth.

The second USAC midjet race of the season at Tri-City Speedway will be held July 9.

Tips on Avoiding Bouts With Poison Ivy or Oak

Poison ivy season is here again. "You may have handled poison ivy last year and escaped without an itch, but don't push your luck," says a pamphlet from the American Medical Association.

No one is permanently immune to poison ivy, oak or sumac.

The next meeting with this pesky plant could take place in a person's own yard, as well as in the woods and fields. Poison ivy, oak and sumac have appeared in city gardens; and poison ivy has been known to form a beautiful growth up the side of a house. Poisonous oils from these plants can come in the smoke from a neighbor's burning trash or on a dog's coat.

A person who can detect poison ivy plants, can often avoid them. Poison ivy and its close kin, poison oak, are three-leaved plants which may grow as low bushes or climbing vines. They may be mixed with honeysuckle and other climbers. Poison sumac, an eastern swamp plant with seven to thirteen leaflets and small white berries, usually grows as a shrub.

Anyone who has been exposed, should carefully remove clothes and thoroughly wash all affected areas with warm water and soap, then sponge with a 50 to 70 per cent alcohol solution. Using rubber gloves, clean the clothes in an oil solvent and soapy water. Then dry them in the sun.

Ivy, oak and sumac poisoning start with itching and redness within a few hours to several days after exposure. Then watery pimples appear. There is no cure for the big itch. Wet dressings of boric acid or Epsom salts solution bring some relief. Calamine lotion also reduces itching. Call the family physician when the inflammation is extensive.

Anyone knowing they will be near poison plants or working with them, should have a dermatologist make a 10 per cent sodium perborate ointment and apply on exposed skin. After contact with the plant, wash off ointment and scrub all clothing—even shoelaces.

He was a member of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, St. Joseph's Lodge 408 of the First Catholic Slovak Union.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Sadie (Plazza) Kontras; a son, Andrew Kontras of Granite City; a daughter, Mrs. Joseph (Leonora) Orlando of Granite City; four grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Route Through investment jungle Charted by Comments, Suggestions

By THOMAS E. O'HARA

Chairman, National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. I am a widow, 60, with $50,000 invested in mutual funds, from which I receive $250 a month. I also receive $1000 a year on a land contract from sale of real estate, and have $15,000 in certificates of deposit in the bank.

My investment counselor has advised me to convert the certificates of deposit into mutual funds. What is your advice?

A. I think you would be wise to leave half of your certificates untouched, with the other half you might invest roughly equal amounts in a major motor company, a major oil company and a good utility.

Although the switch may result in your temporarily having less income, these investments should increase both in value and income during the years ahead, thus helping you overcome a further long-term rise in the cost of living—which we have every reason to expect.

Q. I recently inherited an $100,000. I would like to invest this, but it seems that I get a different opinion from every person I talk to.

One suggests bank time deposits. An acquaintance, who considers himself an investment authority, suggests half in common stocks and half in bonds or time deposits. Another friend says I should put it all in mutual funds, while my wife has still other ideas on good investing. What do you suggest?

A. As you have come into a very important amount of money, if you are totally inexperienced in investing, may I suggest that you talk with an investment advisory service?

Such organizations are made up of professional investment analysts who specialize in guiding your investment program. You would be charged a fee, but these are professionals and their advice—if you choose their actual management of your funds can pay off for you in the long run.

Bank Trust Department

You should find one listed in the classified telephone directory under that title. The trust department of your bank may also offer this service.

However, if you want to manage the money yourself, I recommend that you put the money into an assortment of shares of companies growing faster than 5% a year. I'm enclosing a form, a copy of "Better Investing" in which a model portfolio is outlined, and this might give you some ideas for individual companies to look at.

Time deposits are certainly safe, however, the weakness of certificates of deposit is that if your funds are the fact that neither your income nor capital will increase with time. Inflation is doing it, and this means that your $100,000 will actually decrease in purchasing power.

On the other hand, long-term investments in common stocks tend to climb faster than inflation, based on the past record.

Q. I am considering a regular investment in a mutual fund and have narrowed my choice down to two. Because the shares of one cost less than the other, I'm leaning toward it, believing I'll receive or gain more on it. Am I right?

A. You should not put too much stress on the price of the shares in buying a fund, or any security for that matter. Instead, look at the earnings and appreciation record for the last 10 years.

A mutual fund may be selling at a low price because it was originally sold at a low price and never made any money. Or it could have made good money and paid out all the earnings as dividends, still keeping its per-share price low.

It would be better to compare the performance of the fund with the monthly magazine "Investment Companies," which is likely to be found in your local library.

Have you a question about investing? Mr. O'Hara, "Better Investing," will answer as many as possible in his column or by personal mail, but those who write to him are asked to keep in mind the general interest. Correspondents will receive a free copy of "Better Investing." Write to: T. E. O'Hara, National Association of Investment Clubs, Dept. S, Box 1056, Detroit, Mich., 48231.

Bills Being Acted On at Springfield Have Broken All Records for Volume, Complexity

The Press-Record has completed its summaries on this page of the bills of local impact introduced in the current session of the General Assembly.

It was a struggle to review the proposals, even when limiting ourselves to those of special interest to Quad-Cityans, because of the huge volume.

Bills at latest count totaled 4216 — 2443 House and 1773 Senate — or 626 more than the previous record of 3590 filed two years ago. It is Illinois senators and representatives face a formidable task in attempting to cast informed ballots on the varied legislation, much of it complex, lengthy and of great potential effect on their constituents.

As in the past, too many waited too long to drop their proposed laws into the hopper, resulting in the traditional logjam in which there is less prospect of adequate study and well-thought-out decisions. However, the earlier deadlines for new bills, committee action and transfers from one house to the other undoubtedly will be helpful in this regard.

Adjournment will not end the legislative developments. Gov. Kerner will have to decide which documents to approve or veto. There have been some indications that the Assembly may reconvene this year to act on the vetoes.

Then the printing of new laws will begin, copies will be distributed and attorneys will try to become familiar with those they alter the requirements affecting their branch of the law — governmental, corporate, criminal, personal injury, etc.

Finally, judicial decisions will clarify the intent and specific applications, and the new laws will take their place among the vast number that set the guidelines for our individual and group conduct.

By then, the next biennial session may be about to begin, and attention once again will be directed to Springfield, where the lives of each of us will be changed, for better or worse, by a new batch of several thousand state bills.

25th Anniversary of Army Depot Will Be a Memorable Occasion

The 12th anniversary of the Granite City Army Depot was one of the biggest "birthday parties" ever held anywhere. If observance of the 25th anniversary on Aug. 1 comes anywhere near matching the 1954 festivities, it will be a memorable time for the Quad-Cities.

Special preparations for such an event are appropriate, for the Depot is a military equipment installation of great importance to this community, the nation and the world.

The parade, speaking program, open house, displays and other facets of the celebration will deserve the full cooperation and participation of all local residents.

Effort by Each Citizen Can Add to List of Community Gains in 1967

As noted here at the start of 1967, many accomplishments are assured for the Quad-Cities this year, including completion of the Granite City Steel Co. expansion and the new Wilson Park recreation center and ice skating rink, virtual conquest of air pollution, and completion of widening of the northern section of Nameoki road.

The extent of many other community gains was described as being linked directly with the amount of interest and effort shown by local residents.

With the year fast reaching its midpoint, much additional progress has been made, indeed, a speed-up in work on the Great River Road and redistricting of Granite City wards.

But an impressive record of progress remains to be considered. Excluding the sewer and hospital campaigns still in progress as this was being written, a listing might include the following: implementation of the Horseshoe Lake park development plan, fluoridation of the water supply, provision of additional homes and apartments, improved appearance of residential and commercial property, more effective and efficient governmental services, increased parking facilities, more connecting streets, initiation of downtown renewal efforts, further school and park planning, tavern hour uniformity and Broadway underpass program.

One of the most crucial needs for sound local economic growth is equalization of township multipliers where justified.

Heavy work has been laid but further attention will need to be focused on fostering SIU-SW related cultural events in the Quad-Cities, providing adequate student housing, and broadening present university services to include a journalism department and medical school.

The record of 1967 is not yet complete. What each of us does toward making the Quad-Cities a better place to live, study, shop and work can make a big difference in achieving the goals shared by all.

New Way to Detect Air Pollution

(American Chemical Society)

Air pollution is swiftly becoming one of the burning issues of 1967. Politicians, scientists, industrialists and the man-in-the-street all have something to say about it.

But, before pollution can be eliminated or controlled, it must be detected and measured. New Jersey chemist has reported on a unique method of detecting pollutants from smoke stack effluents from a distance and at night.

The detector, according to Dr. M. J. D. Low of Rutgers University, has identified and reported the presence of sulfur dioxide and carbon dioxide by analysis of the infrared radiation from smoke.

Monitoring at Night. "An advantage of the technique is that it is non-intrusive and can be used at night, when surveillance by other methods becomes difficult if not impossible," said Dr. Low. The method could be used to monitor known sources, to check suspected sources, and to uncover previously unknown sources of pollution.

Results obtained so far indicate only the nature of the ingredients in the smoke, but have not shown how much of each is present. However, Dr. Low added, the preliminary experiments suggest that the technique has promise for air pollution monitoring.

In one experiment, the instrument analyzed the components of smoke about a half-mile from the smoke plume. Dr. Low says the central stations which could monitor a general area.

such as an industrial complex or a section of the city.

Portable Equipment

The portable sensing instrument is called an infrared interferance spectrometer. It is mounted on an eight-inch reflecting telescope. Thus, the sensing instrument scans the area viewed by the telescope.

Dr. Low has set up his equipment in a panel truck. The telescope stands on a platform at the rear of the truck. An electronic equipment is inside.

The mobility of the "snopper" would make it possible for a reporter to spot-check smoke emissions over a large area.

How does the spectrometer work and what does it do? Basically, it records molecular spectra or "fingerprints." Individual molecules have a unique fingerprint characterized by light waves they absorb or emit. The "snopper" can detect these fingerprints.

Dr. Low says the method could be used to monitor known sources, to check suspected sources, and to uncover previously unknown sources of pollution.

The spectrometer scans the area viewed by the telescope and the information is stored in a built-in computer core memory. The computer can add up the data and scan if a single one gives a weak signal. A complete measurement can usually be made in about one minute.

The computer memory subtracts as well as adds. Thus, the sky around the plume can be scanned and the signal subtracted automatically from the total signal, leaving only the signal for the smoke component.

50 YEARS AGO

There are some two hundred or more Macoupin county citizens in Granite City, most of them are here permanently and in order to keep in closer touch with each other have decided upon an organization that will enable them to meet at frequent intervals and swap ideas. The old home and revive the almost forgotten pleasures and trials of by-gone days.

The Kettie River Co., with main offices at Minneapolis, Minn., that operates a large cross-country plant and office at Madison, announced yesterday to all employees that they will grant a ten percent bonus to all their men, providing such men are in regular attendance at the usual offices during any calendar month.

The stage of the Mississippi river at St. Louis 7 a.m. today was 31.6 feet, 1.6 feet above normal, representing a rise of 1.2 feet since 2 p.m. yesterday.

The Mississippi was two miles wide at Alton at 7 a.m. and in places was as deep as three and one-half miles wide before night.

The Wagoner levee at West Alton which is three and one-half miles from Alton on the Missouri side, broke last night.

The levee at West Alton was cut at 5 o'clock this morning to prevent its breaking.

Small subscribers by thousands, or even millions, must come in this week to make the Liberty Loan a success. Treasury officials count strongly on small savers who will loan at least $100 for the war against Germany.

Year-Long Illinois 150th Birthday Party Will Begin This December

(Madison County observed its sesquicentennial—150th anniversary—in 1962. Illinois will reach a similar milestone in 1968. The following article on state "sequil" plans is from "Current Report," a monthly publication of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.)

On Dec. 3, 1818, President James Monroe signed an act of Congress by which the territory of Illinois became the 21st state in the Union.

The year 1968 will mark the 150th anniversary of this important milestone in history. The Illinois Sesquicentennial Commission has been established to coordinate the state and event and give it suitable recognition not only in Illinois but all over the United States.

The commission is composed of seven members of the State Senate, seven members of the House of Representatives and two laymen. The commission is headed by Governor Otto Kerner; also, the Secretary of State and the director of the Department of Business and Economic Development.

Gov. Kerner has appointed Ralph G. Newman, noted Chicago historian, civic leader and Lincoln scholar, as chairman of the Commission.

Dramatic Accomplishments. The "sequil" is being planned throughout the state. The celebration will dramatize the impact of the history and accomplishments of Illinois in its fascinating past, its dynamic present, its great future potential.

Throughout 1967, all across the state, Illinois is preparing for Dec. 4, the start of the sequil year. In every county, city and county, plans are under way to make Illinois' 150th birthday year a "sequil" year.

Overall sequil objective is "to dramatize Illinois as a great place to live, to work, to raise families and to visit." Sequil goals: Develop economic resources, attract new industry, encourage industrial expansion, increase exports, promote tourism, support cultural activities, promote development of a natural resource, improve education and other transportation systems.

"We are laying the groundwork for future growth and future expansion," says Gov. Kerner. "We have had a great history, and during this sequil celebration, we will tell the whole world about it. But we are even more concerned with making history than we are in recounting it."

The 70 Illinois General Assembly authorized the commission to cooperate with other agencies to plan, organize, coordinate and conduct ceremonies, pageants and celebrations appropriate for commemorating the 150th anniversary of the state's physical, cultural and industrial development.

Comment and Controversy

(The Record-Herald and Indiana, Ia., Tribune)

Ten days ago there was intense speculation as to whether the Washington circles about the imminence of a North Vietnam invasion of South Vietnam, across the demilitarized zone separating the country.

State Department officials held an official briefing for the press and warned that large numbers of Communist regulars were poised just north of the boundary and the impression was definite that South Vietnam was in great danger of open and full scale invasion from the north.

It was about the time Gen. Westmoreland was making his appeals throughout the country for more homefront support, and a few days, the war seemed quite ominous indeed.

You might recall those few newsmen who came over the perils just north of the DMZ.

In the first week of May, the Pentagon confirmed that there was in fact no foundation to the reports of troops near Washington's previous week.

In what must be one of the most distressing and frustrating shorten that gap.

Defense officials now say there has been no rapid build-up just north of the DMZ.

Not only is the Red manpower on the north side of the line less than hinted; most of it has been pulled back into that area for a year or more.

What, then, was the purpose of getting everyone excited about an invasion that was no more likely to occur this month than last year?

Perhaps it was to help justify the increased air attacks, or to create acceptable public opinion for increasing the number of troops in Vietnam.

Crime Classification Depends on Intent, Circumstances, Penalty

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

Newspapers carry reports of crimes and trials of criminals continually. Many of these stories discuss different classes of crimes which the average person may not understand.

Under the terms "felony" and "misdemeanor" are familiar to most people, the distinction in the meaning of these two terms is not always obvious.

Crimes are broken down into different classes based on the intent with which the crime was committed, circumstances surrounding the act, the nature of the act itself, and the punishment imposed by law for the crime.

For example, the distinction between felonies and misdemeanors is based on the punishment imposed. In Illinois, a misdemeanor is a crime that is punishable by imprisonment in a state prison while a felony is punishable by death or by imprisonment in a state prison or penitentiary.

In addition to these two classes of crime, crimes are also referred to as being mala in se, mala prohibita, infra, high and quasi, among others.

1. A crime mala in se is an act that is immoral or wrong in itself. One knows it is wrong from the very nature of the act committed. Examples of such crimes would be burglary, larceny, rape, murder or arson. It punishes no act which is not guilty of such a crime, it punishes in itself.

2. A crime mala prohibita is an act that is not immoral or wrong in itself, but is prohibited by law. Examples of such crimes would be driving without a license, parking in a prohibited zone, or violating a public utility regulation.

3. A crime infra is a crime that is prohibited by law, but is not immoral or wrong in itself. Examples of such crimes would be driving without a license, parking in a prohibited zone, or violating a public utility regulation.

4. A crime high and quasi is a crime that is prohibited by law, but is not immoral or wrong in itself. Examples of such crimes would be driving without a license, parking in a prohibited zone, or violating a public utility regulation.

must be shown that a person had an actual intent to commit the crime.

2. An act which is prohibited by statute, and is wrong only because the law makes it so, is called a crime mala prohibita. To prove that such a crime has been committed, it is only necessary for the prosecution to show that the overt act was in fact committed. Intent to violate the law is not a necessary element in this class of crimes.

3. An infamous crime is one punishable by imprisonment in a state or federal penitentiary. Again in this case, classification is based on the punishment imposed and not the character of the crime.

4. High crimes are more serious or aggravated misdemeanors—those which are of such a nature as to be equal in guilt to a felony, but which are excepted from that class because of some technicality.

5. Quasi crimes are really not crimes at all but are more in the nature of offenses against the public which are punishable by punishment for forfeiture or penalty. This class includes neglect or violation of a public duty.

Many of these classifications are inherited from the Common Law, and because of statutory changes are not of great importance today.

At Common Law, the only acts which were considered to be criminal were crimes mala in se, because the Common Law punishes no act which is not guilty of such a crime, it punishes in itself.

Why is Victory Delayed in Vietnam?

(U. S. Department of State)

I hope you will remember that the principle of coexistence has proved an utter failure, and it will have a mess of our stand in Vietnam.

We must fight to win, or get out! When we go into this war in Vietnam, and why not?

Dear Mr. E.: We must bear in mind that victory for us and for South Vietnam is a limited objective. We do not seek to destroy North Vietnam, or even to maintain a base in South Vietnam.

We win if North Vietnam leaves South Vietnam alone. As for how long the war will last, no answer framed in terms of years or months can have validity.

This is because so much will depend on North Vietnam's estimate of our own determination and of our determination of the people of South Vietnam to sustain the integrated military, political and economic programs that are essential for success.

Should the leaders of North Vietnam conclude that they wish to end the conflict, they could stop promptly—almost overnight.

But Hanoi may well persevere in its plan to take over South Vietnam by force. Then the people of South Vietnam and their armed forces, together with our own troops and those of other Free World allies, defining the conditions under which a foreigner may or may not be granted permission to work.

Washington Escalating Taxi Tips

(Clarion, Pa. News)

Hereafter, a federal employee could tip a taxi driver only one dime on a dollar fare and get the tip back from Uncle Sam. But recently the Bureau of the Budget announced it would allow an extra nickel.

Furthermore, if 15% of the fare figured out on the basis of cents, the taxi-driving bureaucrat may splurge and make his tip divisible by the next higher nickel. In the example cited, he could fork over 20 cents and be reimbursed in full by the Treasury.

A 30% increase in this field of federal spending is pretty steep. But taxpayers won't worry too much about it. A nickel isn't worth much anymore; pretty soon it won't even buy a first-class postage stamp.

Now, when the nickels are taken care of, we'd be obliged if the Bureau of the Budget would consider the dollars federal employees pass out.

'Head Start' Program Begins Next Week at GC Schools

Granite City will be one of several cities in Madison county to again participate in the office of Economic Opportunity's Project Head Start, it was announced today by Raymond Jones, assistant principal of Prather junior high school, who will administer the local program.

Jones said the program will be open to four- and five-year-old children, who have not yet attended school, but will enter kindergarten or a preschool program in September. Classes will begin next Monday and continue through Aug. 4.

Children who qualify for the program will attend daily three- and-a-half hour sessions, Monday through Friday, Jones explained. He added that attendance in the 8:30 a.m. to noon classes is without cost.

The administrator pointed out that emphasis of the program will be centered upon the emotional, physical and psychological development of the individual child. Dental inspections and physical examinations will be undertaken early in the program and a daily nourishment program will be provided for the youngsters.

Excursions or field trips are being planned, Jones said, that will add to the growing knowledge of pupils in this age group. Enrollment is limited to 15 children per class.

Under the supervision of Jones, eight certificated primary grade teachers from the Granite City school district will direct Project Head Start at tentatively designated centers. Each teacher will be assisted by a teacher's aid and volunteer personnel.

Tentatively designated centers and teachers include: Logan school, Mrs. Jane Raphael; Washington school, Mrs. Emalou Boyer; Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Center, Miss Beatrice Ruffner; Webster school I, Mrs. Ruth Jensen, Webster school II, Mrs. Evelyn Gavin; Marshall school I, Mrs. Beulah Mull, and Marshall school II, Mrs. Dannie Kaegel; and Emerson school, Mrs. Mildred Starkey.

Jones explained that volunteer groups, as well as individuals, will be needed to aid in the Head Start program. He asked those willing to contribute time to the project to contact him at Prather junior high school, or call TR 6-8652.

Rev. Frank Pierce performed the double-ring ceremony at 7 p.m. before an altar decorated with altar bouquets of white gladioli and pom poms, two branched candelabra and a kneeling bench.

Mrs. Rose Young served as organist for Robert Arbogast, soloist, who sang "One God," "The Lord's Prayer" and "May The Lord Bless and Keep You." Mr. Signall gave his daughter in marriage. She was attired in a pure white silk organza gown with a high waistline and a square neckline. The gown had a Chantilly lace bodice and short sleeves. The gown had scattered lace motifs and a wide hemline of lace. The detachable train with lace motifs fell to a full sweep.

A white pill box accented with pearls and crystal secured the three-tiered butterfly shoulder veil, and the bride carried a nosegay of white carnations, white roses and a bouquet of pink and white daisies.

The groom wore a three-piece suit of mint green with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. A wedding reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Hungarian Home. The couple took a wedding trip to the Lodge of The Four Seasons. They will reside in St. Louis.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a bouffant floor-length gown of Alencon lace over white tulle. It was fashioned on the lines of a basque waist, with a sabrina neckline and traditional long tapered sleeves. The skirt, voluminous, had a lace apron effect over the entire ruffled skirt.

Her finger tip veil of silk illusion was held in place with an organza rose outlined in tiny seed pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow rose buds and white pom poms centered with a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Cindy Donaldson, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Sheila Tucker and Miss Nilsa Abbott served as bridesmaids, and Miss Ruth Ann Valencia, a cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.
